Big Rate Hikes Due On DC Fire Insurance

A hefty hike in fire insurance rates for Daly City homeowners and merchants looms today, according to a report from the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

Although the report was preliminary in nature, it was evident that fire insurance on dwelling would go up roughly 29 percent and mercantile rates would increase from 15 to 25 percent.

The Bureau, the governing board of all local insurance, acted on recommendation of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The latter group said rates in Daly City had to be adjusted upwards because of the "scattered" location of the shopping centers. Specifically, this refers to the Westlake Shopping Center and the expanded coverage which it necessitates for the fire department.

City Manager George Watts said he had nothing definite to report on the insurance hikes since the report was just received by his office and was "preliminary in nature."

ONE PARCEL TO GO

Pershing Site, Funds Released By State

Jefferson Elementary School District is approaching the "home stretch" in its negotiations for a 5.4 acre site for the new General Pershing School.

The state has released $174,750 for the district to immediately purchase 14 pieces of property from homeowners who are satisfied with the price offered for their land. Only the Meussdorfer property, comprising approximately three-fourths of the 5.4 acre site, is holding up the final negotiations.

Funds for the entire project were allocated a year ago, but were released just this month. The Meussdorfer parcel alone will cost the district well over $200,000.

The $174,750 for the 14 parcels include six which are located partially in San Francisco and the one which is located entirely in San Francisco, over the county line at the corner of Hanover and Lowell streets.

All told, the amount of land in San Francisco is only .19 acres. Of the present site's 5.4 acres, only 3.5 are useable. The state, in view of this limited acreage, has approved a plan for only a 9-classroom school.

Much earlier, Daly City trustees sought three additional acres in San Francisco for playground area of new Pershing. But SF county and city officials have continued to oppose this move, claiming it is an "intrusion" on their property.

Whether San Francisco will take Jefferson Elementary District to court to challenge the purchase of the .19 acres remains a question mark. Legally, if the property owners sell to the Daly City district, San Francisco has no official voice in the matter.

Trustees here, if successful in getting .19 acres across the county line, may eventually ask for three additional acres in San Francisco—their original plan. Everything hinges on whether San Francisco will decide to go to court on the .19 acres.

The school, which will be designed by Architect Mario Ciampi, will be located on the site which is bounded by Bellevue, Whittier, Hanover and Lowell streets and includes the small triangle (.19 acres) at (Continued on Page 2)

COUNCILMEN OKAY STUDY ON CHARTER

Is charter form of government desirable in Daly City?

The city council wants to know and last week set their meeting of January 26 for appointment of a citizens committee to study and report on the charter system.

Each councilman will name two citizens to the committee. Report by the group should be ready in about two months.

The charter study was urged by Mayor Micheal DeBernardi who said that the city "is being held back because we do not have a charter system."

"There are many avenues to be explored on charter government," said the mayor. "I'm sure this study will help to tell us if charter is the best type government for Daly City. Personally, I think it is."

Councilman Joseph Verducci said the citizens' committee would be asked to come back to the council with the facts on charter government and a recommendation for council consideration.

City Freeway Group Requests 'Unified' Stand

Daly City will reactivate its freeway committee next week in the first move to form a "unified front" throughout the community on the location of the inevitable freeway route here.

Public hearings on the five routes studied by the state are scheduled in March or April.

Councilman Francis Pacelli heads the freeway committee and has scheduled a meeting of the group at city hall on Tuesday night, January 6, at 8 o'clock. At that time, the committee and city officials will view maps of the five routes and discuss each route in relation to what it would mean to the tax base, business and homeowners.

"The city must be unified when the state comes up with its final choice of a freeway route. If we have any protests, they must be a united if our 'say' is to be effective," declared Pacelli.

Of the five routes studied by the state, it appears that the one running through Westlake is the least likely to be adopted. The council and the Westlake Improvement Association are strongly against this route and will fight it to the end.

The four other run down Junipero Serra boulevard, each with an alternate for crossing over the highway from west to east near School street.

The state is negotiating for frontage on the Lake Merced Golf Club west of Junipero Serra. Several homeowners and businesses will be affected on the east side of Junipero Serra south of School street. This route extends to north of the cemetery, thence across Junipero Serra and south of St. Francis Heights subdivision.

Governor Brown Eyes St. Clair For Youth Job

Councilman Bob St. Clair today confirmed reports that he is being considered by Governor-elect Pat Brown for the job of director of youth authority for the state of California.

But the big captain of the 49ers was hesitant to say he would take the post.

"I talked with Mr. Brown about three weeks ago and he said he would like to have me on his staff in some capacity. He mentioned a position in youth work and said he would contact me later. I really don't have a complete idea what the position would involve," explained St. Clair.

The 28-year-old councilman definitely has ambitions in politics. Appointment to a state post would bolster his chances.

St. Clair said he would like to remain in Daly City and San Mateo County, however. But at the same time he admitted he certainly wouldn't turn down a good opportunity.

Early last summer, St. Clair was interviewed by movie scouts for the role of Tarzan. Nothing new has developed on this offer to date.

An All-Pro tackle for the San Francisco gridgers, St. Clair is the highest paid lineman for the 49ers. The state job, of course, would exceed his football salary.

City Manager Boosted $600 In Yearly Pay By 4-1 Vote

Verducci Won't Go Along With The Majority

City Manager George Watts got a $600 raise in yearly pay last week, a move that passed with only Councilman Joseph Verducci in disagreement.

Watts thus will get $1050 per month or $12,600 next year.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, chorused by Councilmen Edward Dennis and Bob St. Clair, said Watts' pay had to be boosted because his present $12,000 per annum salary was the same as that of Public Works Director Otis Calhoun.

It is only logical, they inferred, that the city manager should be paid higher than any other employee. At the same time, the three councilmen said they were satisfied with Watts' performance of duties since he assumed the post officially three months ago.

Verducci, admitting that he too was satisfied with Watts' efforts to date, stated, however, that "we aren't in a position to evaluate the new city manager because it has only been a short time since he has handled the job."

"I can't agree with a pay raise," Verducci continued. "We set Watts salary at $12,000 when he was hired and I think it should stand at that."

"If we raise his pay, then we should study all salaries to see if other changes aren't in line," continued Verducci.

Dennis angrily challenged Verducci.

"We're saving $2900 a year even by granting Watts a pay raise," stormed Dennis. "He is doing a fine job and I think we are justified in this action."

The saving Dennis made reference to was a comparison of Watts' $12,600 a year to the $15,000 paid Howard Stites, who resigned under pressure earlier this year.

St. Clair, defining his thinking in approving a raise for Watts, said "we have to have a salary balance here for all employees and their supervisors."

But St. Clair agreed with Verducci that other departmental head salaries should be looked into.

Councilman Francis Pacelli made no comment, apparently being fully in agreement with the majority.

ANOTHER HOME IS RANSACKED IN WESTLAKE

Westlake's slippery burglar, the culprit with the county-wide reputation, struck again last week—on Christmas day.

Seymour Hipschman, of 160 Wilshire, said his home was ransacked December 25 between 4 and 6 p.m. Money (some of it from a piggy bank) and jewelry topped the list of missing items.

Again, entry was made via the back way. The burglar stacked garden bricks beneath the rear kitchen window and popped the screen off the window to enter the residence.

Daly City police have kept the burglarized area under heavy surveillance the past few weeks. The wave of break-ins is the heaviest in city history.

SWEAR-IN CEREMONY

Judge Becker Takes Bench Next Week

Charles Becker of Westlake will assume the municipal judgeship of the Northern Judicial District next Monday noon in official ceremonies at the court, second floor of city hall in South San Francisco.

The 42-year-old attorney, elected to the six-year post in November, will succeed Judge Tom Bocci Jr. who is completing six years on the bench. Bocci lost out in the district attorney race early last year and was not a candidate for re-election.

Friends and associates of Judge Becker are invited to attend.

A personal copy for President Eisenhower brought a warm complimentary message from his office. Teacher P. B. Council OK's One-Year Term For Mayor Job

A 4-1 vote of the council last week established a policy of rotating the job of mayor here once a year—in April.

Councilman Joseph Verducci opposed the resolution. He said he preferred the present policy of letting a majority vote of the council at any time decide the mayor's seat. Also, Verducci said the new policy might make the job occupancy just a matter of time and not appointive from a standpoint of the individual's qualifications to be chairman of the council.

City Attorney Paul Hupf said the resolution fixing the rotation plan and one-year limit (April each year the job changes hands) was merely a matter of policy.

"You can change policy at any time," Hupf qualified, answering Verducci's query.

DENNIS' PROPOSAL APPEARS DOOMED

No Police, Fire Commissions?

Councilman Edward Dennis faces an uphill road in his move to have police and fire commissions re-established in Daly City.

This was evident last week when City Manager George Watts, Police Chief Roland Petroschi and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy all went on record against the commissions. In general, all three said the commissions would create overlapping authority and costly delays in expediting departmental duties.

Dennis, who with Councilman Bob St. Clair, pledged in their election campaigns for the return of the commissions, said he was satisfied with Watts' report and added, "perhaps citizens' committees instead of commissions would be better."

Watts was instructed by the council to make a survey on the practicality of re-establishing the two commissions here.

He contacted the League of California Cities and was informed that in accordance with state statutes, commissions in a sixth class city could be nothing more than an advisory group to the council with no power whatsoever in management or direction of departments.

According to the League, there are only five of 134 cities of 10,000 population or more which have police and fire commissions. These are Los Angeles, San Francisco, Ontario, Fairfield and San Carlos.

Of the five cities with commissions, San Francisco and LA are chartered cities, thus leaving only three other cities in the sixth class category with commissions.

Watts said commissions, with the exception of personnel and planning, where there is a council-manager form of government, "are not the most desirable working combination."

He continued: "So many times an overlapping authority arises which causes much delay and confusion in settling matters which could be expedited and handled efficiently as they occur. In many cases, decisions should be made immediately that affect the economic and efficient operation of a department. Where there is a commission, the department head in most cases would process these items through the commission for their recommendations only. Therefore, the manager and city council would not be thoroughly advised on such matters until such time that the commissions would meet, causing a delay which will be unnecessary and hinder the economic and efficient operation of a city department."

DISCARD XMAS TREES, FIRE CHIEF URGES

Christmas trees, after they have served their purpose, can become fire hazards.

In order to meet this problem, the Daly City fire department asks all residents who live east of Junipero Serra boulevard to take their trees to the parking lot at Marchbanks Park (near the railroad tracks) on January 10 and 11. Firemen on duty there will burn these trees as they arrive.

Chief Elmer Kennedy urges residents to make every effort to dispose of the trees on these dates.

"With this cooperation, we will be able to destroy thousands of fire hazards in a short time," the chief said.

The first Christmas Day baby born in San Francisco belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Green, who live in Westlake at 1009 South Mayfair.

Mom Della, a June graduate of Jefferson High, gave birth to a 7-pound, 9-ounce baby girl at 12:58 a.m. on December 25 at Mary's Help Hospital. Dad Jack is a barber with a lot to talk about.

Della's folks, the Patron family, who reside at 529 San Diego avenue, said the new arrival would be named either Andrea Jacqueline, Jacqueline Andrea or Dillie Andrea.

Safe Raider Gets $3863 From Gateway

Police today continued their investigation of the theft of $3863 in cash from the safe of Gateway Chevrolet's main office here early last week.

Mrs. Lorraine M. Roche, office cashier who lives at 79 Fairlawn avenue, said she placed the money in an envelope and left it in the unlocked safe when she relieved the telephone operator about noontime. She discovered the loss about 2:20 p.m.

Manager Jerry Mincher said several employees have access to the main office. He added that it was Mrs. Roche's usual procedure to leave the money in the unlocked safe prior to her regular trips to the bank to deposit the cash.

Pin-Ball Pay Brings Arrest Of Cook Here

A 46-year-old cook at Sanford's restaurant on Mission street was arrested by Daly City police last week for paying off on a pin-ball machine. James E. Courtney, who lives at 42 Mateo avenue, Millbrae, was booked by undercover man Raymond Lee and Sgt. David Hansen. The officers closed in when Courtney gave a customer $7.50 for winning on the pin-ball machine.

Under city ordinance, pin-ball machines may be used for amusement only. Courtney posted $100 bail and is due in court on January 13.

HEARINGS SET ON SOUTH SERRA ROUTE

A public meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, January 28, to discuss the location of the future Junipero Serra Freeway extending from south of San Bruno avenue in San Bruno to south of Edgemar road in Daly City.

The meeting will begin at 3 p.m., in the all-purpose room of El Rancho Elementary School, Del Monte avenue, in South San Francisco.

The portion of the freeway to be considered at this meeting is a part of the interstate highway system and connects south of San Bruno avenue with the northerly end of the Junipero Serra Freeway route adopted by the California Highway Commission on July 23, 1958.

Interested citizens are invited to attend the meeting and present their views. Testimony will be transcribed and made a part of the official record of the meeting.

Information will be furnished later concerning a display of maps to be scheduled just prior to the meeting.

Officials in Sacramento are studying five proposed routes for the Daly City freeway. Four of these run down Junipero Serra, the fifth through Westlake. Public hearing on these routes is due in about three months.

Jail Or Fine For Youth Who 'Scattered' Cops

The 20-year-old San Francisco youth who tried to run down three Daly City cops with his car here November 8 was sentenced to $250 fine or 30 days in jail last week by Judge Tom Bocci in municipal court.

Michael F. Ulrich, a sheet metal worker of 33 Rey street, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon (the car) and reckless driving after his "get-away" act sent the officers scattering to safety. The police were attempting to disperse a late-hour juvenile party on Winchester street.

In another case, Bocci gave bartender James Canales, 32, of 183 A San Pedro road, Colma, a choice of $250 fine or a month in jail after the latter pled guilty to drunk driving here.

'Santa Claus' (City) Aids 73 Families

With a great burst of generosity, Daly City gave a Happy Christmas to 73 families with 270 children.

NO POLICE, FIRE BOARDS?

Watts concluded that if the commissions were to be re-established, "great limitations should be placed as to the authority of these commissions to prevent conflict arising from the council-manager policies now established."

Police Chief Petrocchi's report cited that the "indirect influence of an advisory type police commission . . . is sometimes strong and compelling because such commissions are the creation of the city council and therefore are responsible to the council to some degree."

Petrocchi pointed out that most of the progressive police agencies in this country have some form of appeal system, through which an employee can air his grievances.

"Police commissions are said to be useful as an appeal system, but we already have this system in our personnel board," said the chief. "The police commission can inspect the police department budget, but the city manager, the department head and the council carry out these responsibilities. The police commission can handle disciplinary cases, but this again is a function of the personnel board. The police commission may be given authority to suggest policy, but policy is established by the electorate through the council," Petrocchi finalized.

Fire Chief Kennedy's report termed a fire commission "unnecessary when a city has a city manager form of government."

"The department head," said Kennedy, "works directly with the city manager on a daily basis, if necessary, and can get a definite answer or solution to a problem immediately. With a commission, meetings are held monthly, as a rule, and determination of a problem is attempted through correspondence, which sometimes takes months to finalize."

"The fire chief, in the course of his duties, must work with the city manager, personnel board and the city council. There is no need to inject a fourth body, whose duties will be duplicating or will be in conflict with the three mentioned above."

Like Petrocchi, the fire chief said that commissioners in his department would be laymen or businessmen, who lack the technical knowledge to handle their commission duties with maximum efficiency.

Both Kennedy and Petrocchi reminded that they do not doubt the sincerity of any persons appointed to the proposed commissions. But, along with Watts, neither believes the commissions will be practical. The council made little comment on the commission survey last week. Dennis said he was merely "attempting to live up to my platform promise to work for restoration of the two commissions."

Daly City's police and fire commissions were eliminated in 1955 when Howard Stites took over as city manager.

The school board also is working for replacement of old Pershing School at 631 Hanover street. The plan, which has won preliminary state approval, is for a five-classroom school to replace the present 10-classroom "landmark" which currently houses 435 students in grades kindergarten through third.

Property owners on both sides of the old school will be affected by the replacement move. The exact number of homes involved is not known at this time.

The new Pershing near the county line will house youngsters in grades four through six.

made the blotter.

Arrested December 25 at 5:50 a.m. was John Edmond Herndon, 28, a roofer, who was stopped by Officer J. R. Wetmore in Westlake at the Alemany-Park Plaza corner.

Wetmore spotted Herndon's sedan weaving and moving the wrong way on a one-way street. The roofer admitted he was responsible for a hit-run accident a few minutes earlier in front of 306 Knowles avenue. The accident involved only parked cars.

Herndon, who lives in San Francisco at 214 Arleta avenue, was released on $500 bond.

Police noted the "usual number" of drunk arrests Christmas eve and on December 25. There were no serious emergencies, however.

GIRL SCOUTS LIVE UP TO THEIR THEME

"You Can Count On Her" to be of service to her community.

The Girl Scouts lived up to their motto by playing Santa Claus to inmates of Villa Sanitarium in Colma.

'Tis the season to be jolly, and in order to make those less fortunate ones happy, they distributed bubble bath bottles and perfume soaps to the patients. Immediately afterwards, the Girl Scouts gathered in the courtyard below and sang Christmas carols.

Five Junior High Troops participated in the gift giving and caroling session.

Mrs. Ita Kordules' Troop 124, composed of third grade Brownies, went to Community Hospital in San Mateo to distribute tray favors, scrapbooks, and stuffed kittens which they themselves made.

Mrs. G. Watkins' second grade Brownie Troop distributed stuffed animals to patients at Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco.

These and many other Girl Scout troops throughout the district are being of service to other and bringing great cheer to the sad at heart.

Girl Scouting is for all interested girls from 7 to 17 and those who wish to join are heartily welcome to do so. For any information, contact District Chairman Mrs. A. Dale Williams, 299 Belmar Ave., PL 5-5464, Daly City.

Something For Everyone

By Sam Chandler
City Librarian

Taking the activities of the California Library Commission as my pattern, I have asked individuals in Daly City to express their opinions concerning the current state of the library and its needs. Below are a few representative comments:

"My chief complaint is the size of the library. We need more room to expand the collection of both fiction and nonfiction."

"Give us more books, more staff and a place to park our cars, and you'll see that people of Daly City can use a library as much as people of any other city."

"I think the book selection in the present library is excellent. The people responsible must be both judicious and open-minded."

"I know the library is very limited for a town this size, but you're getting more of what you need. Keep trying."

"We need a new building."

"The library has become much more useful to me during the past two or three years. I've noticed many improvements in the collection, the staff, and even the buildings."

"The buildings are too small; the collections are too one-sided, and the staff is too pre-occupied."

"I don't even have a library card any more. The place is too small and too noisy and you have very little that will help me in my work."

"I can't complain. When I need a reference the librarians either have the book or get it for me."

"It is a shame that the kids have to crowd into such a small place."

"If they'd give you some room and some money we'd have the best library in this area."

"It seems to me that the city council is squarely behind you. You'll get your new building."

If a summary of the feelings expressed is possible, I think it can be stated that the people of Daly City feel that the library is an intrinsic part of the community, filling a cultural gap that no other institution can or wants to fill. Although they are satisfied with its present progress, they feel keenly the need of a new building and a greatly increased number of books. For this reason they steadily support the steps the city government has taken to obtain these. They are, however, impatient for these things and ready to support an accelerated program.

'Gift Festival' By Girl Scouts Is Successful

The Girl Scouts' "Festival of Gifts" was a huge success. South San Francisco High School auditorium was jam-packed with hundreds of uniformed Girl Scouts at all levels—Brownies, Intermediates, and Seniors—who represented the whole North San Mateo County Council.

The gifts donated by the girls were immediately shipped to Italy where they will be distributed to needy people. These consisted of school supplies, soap, washcloths, mittens, vegetable seeds, and stretch socks.

A delightful program of songs, skits, and folk dancing were performed by the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. George Bliss of Brisbane was chairman of the affair. She was ably assisted by a committee composed of: Mrs. C. Brunger, Coastside; Mrs. M. Houg, Coastside; Mrs. B. Button, Daly City-Co ma; Mrs. Carl Petersen, South San Francisco; Mrs. C. Scheuerman, San Bruno; and Mrs. G. Newberry, Millbrae.

The program closed with the flag ceremony.

LAW IN ACTION

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

A criminal case goes through many steps before a court finds the accused guilty or innocent.

Even before officers arrest anyone for homicide, for example, a coroner's jury decides whether or not a person has died of unnatural causes.

Then too, a judge may hold a preliminary examination to decide if someone has committed a crime at all, or if anyone should be accused of it.

A court must "arraign" the accused and inform him of the specific charges against him and of his rights to counsel.

Or, a grand jury takes sworn testimony before indicting someone for a crime.

The accused may plead guilty or not guilty, or answer in other ways. (Example: by showing there is no such offense on the law books.)

If he pleads not guilty, the justice or municipal court may hold a hearing and find whether enough evidence exists to hold him for a superior court trial.

This court often tries persons accused of "felony" crimes for which the sentences may be the state prison or the gas chamber.

After the trial the "defendant" may appeal to higher courts claiming he did not have a fair trial or that his conviction was erroneous.

California has changed its trial procedure for a person accused of a "capital" crime where the sentence is death, or life in prison, such as first degree murder or kidnapping with bodily harm. The judge or jury have to (1) find him guilty, (2) fix his penalty, and (3) then, sometimes decide if he was insane when he committed the crime—all in separate hearings.

After the jury finds a person guilty of first degree murder it must hold a second hearing to decide the penalty—whether death or life imprisonment. Only a "sane" person has the legal "capacity" to commit a crime. So sometimes the jury may still have to hear evidence and decide the defendant's sanity.

If "not guilty for reasons of insanity," the court as a rule sends him to a hospital for the criminally insane.

Finally, the California Supreme Court has to hear an appeal before a death sentence can be carried out.

good start for 1959 in the form of a $100 donation. The men in uniform and the department's clerks each donated $2.50 to PAL instead of exchanging Christmas cards. About the only other big donation to the youth group came from Supervisor and Mrs. Thomas Callan of Colma. They turned over a $100 check for the second straight year.

the committee arranging this service was Herbert Stettler, assisted by Marge Brown and Charles Waterson. Sunday School superintendent, Lenore Stensland and Grace Marting assisted in the dramatic presentation of the Christmas story in the chance of the church.

After the service, gifts and candy were distributed to all children present. The setting for this service was made possible by a group of 12 men from the church who made a special trip to the mountains to cut fresh trees. Of the 30 trees, only one was trimmed.

Curran Features 'View From Bridge'

Starring Chester Morris, Arthur Miller's exciting drama, "A View From The Bridge," is to be the next attraction at the Curran Theater, beginning this week.

The author of "Death of a Salesman" saw in this view from Brooklyn Bridge a teaming Italian-American neighborhood inhabited most by stevedores servicing the docks along the waterfront. He focussed his view on a particular family wracked by violent storms arising from a likeable but dumb man's unrealistic love for a teen-age niece he has raised from infancy as his own daughter.

SAN MATEO county leaders of the local American Cancer Society branch will meet with the two generals above shortly to map the forthcoming 1959 fund-raising campaign to meet the $90,000 quota. Left is Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, appointed state campaign chairman. With him is Maj. Gen. John R. Deane, who headed America's military mission to Moscow during World War II, and is now the president of the California ACS division.

COUNTY CANCER DRIVE LEADERS SALUTE STATE CHAIRMAN DEAN

San Mateo County Cancer Society leaders in Daly City today hailed the appointment of world-famed Major General William F. (Bill) Dean as state fund-raising chairman for 1959.

Said County Cancer Society President Mrs. Albert A. Hedge of Menlo Park, "General Dean has won the gratitude and admiration of free men for his relentless and successful fight against aggression in Europe and Korea. Now he is turning his great ability against one of humanity's greatest aggressors—cancer, which strikes hard at our own population of San Mateo County. We here are looking forward to the great inspiration and aid he will bring us."

Appointment of General Dean was announced by another high-ranking retired army officer, a near-namesake, Maj. Gen. John R. Deane of San Francisco, who is serving his second year as state president of the ACS.

Gen. William Dean, who has lived in Berkeley since his retirement as deputy commander of the 6th Army in 1955, was awarded the Medal of Honor for his role in the defense of Taejon in 1950.

Noting that San Mateo county's quota for 1959 has been upped to about $90,000, General Dean in a special appeal reminded that two Californians died of cancer last year for every three men lost during the entire Korean conflict.

He said, "I plead with every resident of the state and San Mateo County (which ranked No. 1 in topping its quota in the state for 1958) to once again wage a relentless battle against this killer. Not enough is being done to spread the word about the value of early diagnosis and treatment of cancer. We are lagging in our financial support of research."

General Dean added that he will ask each county to make a voluntary effort to exceed its quota in order that the state can aim at a $3,000,000 goal this year. Last year a total of $2,558,917 was raised in the state.

Both generals will meet shortly with county ACS leaders to map the 1959 fund campaign.

Safeway Reveals Plans To Build 32 New Bay Area Supermarkets

Plans for construction of 32 new supermarkets, and a 200,000 square foot perishable goods warehouse, plus remodeling of many existing stores, was announced today by Quentin Reynolds, San Francisco Division Manager of Safeway Stores, Incorporated. Total cost is projected at $20½ million.

"These 32 new supermarkets will raise to 165, the number of retail outlets operated by this division in the Northern California coastal area," Reynolds stated.

The perishable goods warehouse will be built on the division's 70 acre Distribution Center site in Richmond, where a 348,480 square foot grocery warehouse, a 27,500 square foot truck repair shop, and a cheese packaging plant were opened recently.

In addition to new construction, a continuing remodeling program will be carried on, providing older stores with latest type display fixtures and equipment. New stores will be constructed in San Jose (3), San Francisco, Cupertino, San Carlos, Orinda, Felton, Richmond, Berkeley, Concord, Oakland, Santa Clara, San Leandro, Danville, Los Altos, Saratoga, Fremont, and Santa Rosa.

Currently Safeway Supermarkets are under construction in San Mateo, East Palo Alto, Sunnyvale Daly City, San Francisco (2), San Jose (Hacienda Shopping Center), Pacific Grove, Fort Bragg, and Mountain View.

"This expansion program will result in the promotion of 128 Safeway employees to supervisory positions and the hiring of 850 new store employees," Reynolds reported.

"This represents our minimum program," H. H. Baker, Property Manager for the Division, stated. "As new store sites and shopping center leases are offered us we will adjust our program upward."
